A Message From The President

Jon R. Schneider

Reasons for Celebrating Veterans Day

As we near Veterans Day next month, let us remember why this Nation celebrates this annual event.

Why do we celebrate Veterans Day? This special day was established as a yearly holiday in honor of the brave veteran soldiers and military personnel of the U.S. Today, there is an estimated 24.9 million military veterans in the country. These people deserve upmost respect and appreciation for their significant contributions to the success of past military actions. In return, society can do nothing much better than to offer them a special day in honor of their bravery and courage.

By way of background, this national holiday is held annually on the 11th day of November. It was based on the date of the signing of the Armistice, which eventually led to the end of the World War I. In case this falls on a Saturday, people can celebrate on that particular day or the weekday before, which is a Friday. When it lands of a Sunday, the celebration is on the nearest weekday which is a Monday, as is the case this year.

And so, back to the question of why we celebrate Veterans Day!

We celebrate Veterans Day because we need to honor all those who fought while serving our country in the military.

We celebrate Veterans Day because we need to honor the valuable people who did their part in helping to make the USA a better and safer place for us to live.

We celebrate Veterans Day to honor both the fallen and living military servicemen and servicewomen.

Please note, Veterans Day is not to be confused with Memorial Day. Memorial Day is the day we honor those who have died for our country. On Veterans day we honor the living Veterans and thank them for their service.

DISCLAIMER

Back Talk and the Iowa Chapter of the Paralyzed Veterans of America neither endorses nor guarantees any of the products or services advertised. We are pleased that we can offer you information about products and services that are available, but we strongly urge you to investigate any company or product yourself prior to using such services or products.

Back Talk is a publication of the Iowa PVA and is meant to inform its readers of Chapter activities, legislation, and other matters of concern to veterans and/or members of the disability community. Any opinions expressed in any article is that of the author and may not reflect the beliefs or policies of the Iowa Chapter.
I am at a loss on how to get more people involved. There are so many opportunities for our members to participate in activities, sporting events, and programs designed to assist other veterans. I have sent out a call for volunteers before but at this time I would like to outline some benefits to volunteering beyond the satisfaction of helping your fellow veterans.

Iowa PVA offers a Sports Points Policy designed to encourage volunteering while providing the volunteer member with points credits to be used toward funding assistance to attend sporting events such as the National Veterans Wheelchair Games, the Summer and Winter Sports Clinics, the Castaway Disabilities Fishing Event, National and Regional trapshoots, bowling tournaments, billiard tournaments, hunting and even National Convention.

It is really quite simple to take advantage of this opportunity. You need to contact me and express your interest. I will get you signed up as a volunteer through National PVA and provide you with the guidelines. You can do your volunteer work in many ways. Of course you can volunteer at your local VA facility (hospital, clinic, etc.) but if this is not possible, I will try to provide you with ideas for acceptable volunteer activities. You will be required to attend a Board of Directors meeting, the Annual Dinner and Awards Banquet, the Christmas Party, a fundraising event, or a full membership meeting. Only one of these is required and believe me, you will find the experience either interesting or very entertaining. Once you become involved with IPVA, I am confident you will want to continue and keep coming back.

With the economy the way it is, IPVA is a good way to allow participation in events when financial constraints might be preventing our members from attending. This is a win/win. You volunteer to assist other veterans and you receive an opportunity to receive funding assistance to attend events.

Please call me to get started.

Lonn Cunningham Won the VAN!!!!!!!!!!

As you know either from the last issue of Back Talk or from email notification, Lonn Cunningham was selected as a finalist in the Long Love Cars Contest. Three of the six finalists would win a vehicle based on internet voting results. Everyone rallied and Lonn received enough votes to win!!!

He will be officially presented with his prize in a ceremony to take place over Veterans Day weekend in Phoenix, AZ. This presentation will take place at the NASCAR race held in Phoenix that weekend and should be nationally televised.

The next issue of Back Talk will include a full article from Lonn complete with pictures of his new vehicle.

Lonn is very appreciative and would like to thank everyone who made this win possible for him.
If you get the PN magazine you already know that convention was held in New Orleans this year. To me convention did not turn out the way I thought it would. The economy is still hurting our organization and we had some tough decisions to make again. I have been National Director since 2001 and we have some new National Directors that sit on the board. I do not think they fully understood how they voted on the resolutions or motions made through the four day meeting.

We started our meeting listening to the Honorable Eric Shinseki, Secretary of the Veterans Affairs. He was telling us of all the success they have accomplished with the VA in the last four years and how PVA being involved has helped improve the health care for the veterans. They have come a long way for the spinal cord and disease but I think they have farther to go before it is a perfect health care system. The VA should be the same all over the country in getting your medication or even your prosthetics but yet it seems each VA is different. The continuing education our health care providers are getting has improved and the Veterans are getting better health care. The VA needs to have full funding for them to keep our veterans in the best possible health.

After listening to the Secretary the board was sworn in and we got to work. We heard the reports from the Executive Committee, Committee reports and the National staff. I brought up a problem I had in July when my ramp broke away from my van to our Veterans Benefit Department. When I went to get it fixed at the place I bought it, I was told that the prosthetics department would have to approve it first. This was a change from the way things were done in the past. I could always take it and get it fixed and did not have to wait for someone to approve it. I was approved for the van by the VA but now I have to wait for approval even if I would be out on the road somewhere and couldn’t get home or have some medical emergency. When we contacted the Iowa City VA it was even worse than Des Moines. You have to wait until the doctor approves it first. This is unacceptable and needs to be corrected. I know I am not the only one having this problem because I have already been told by others they have had the same problem. We need to hear from all of you that are having this problem. You can call the chapter at 1-888-909-4786 or me at 641-486-2564. I was told that Iowa is the only state that is having this problem.

Resolution 12-A-3 regarding PVA Travel Policy for Land Travel changed the way the National Directors can travel to the meetings. The Directors have to travel by either flying or driving by which either one is lower in cost. Also was changed is that if you decide to drive you will be paid what is cost for one airfare even if you have a caregiver that travels with you. Before it used to be the caregiver would be paid what the airfare was too when they rode with the Director. It will not be feasible for the Director to drive if they have to drive very far. By only getting one airfare for driving, there will be no money for a hotel for two and no meals for two. This is one of those resolutions that I do not think some of the Directors knew what they were voting on. I have had my share of bad luck with flying and I am not looking forward to flying again but now I do not have much choice. Another change in the travel policy was the mileage rate of 45 cents was cut to 35 cents.

Our Chapter will be spending more money in the future because of the resolution passing for the Bylaw changes. Also there will be changes in our logo and the chapter name. There will be one logo for all the chapters and National PVA. The chapter name will change from Iowa Chapter Paralyzed Veterans of America to Paralyzed Veterans of America Iowa Chapter.

At the end of the week the elections were held. Those reelected to their positions were President Bill Lawson, Senior Vice President Al Kovach, Vice President Ken Weas, Vice President David Fowler, Vice President David Zurfluh, and Treasurer Craig Enenbach. There are two new people coming on to the Executive Committee. They are Larry Dodson as National Secretary and Charles Brown as Vice President. Mr. Brown will be the Vice President that the Iowa Chapter reports to.

If anybody has any questions on the resolutions, please call me.

I recently went to San Diego to the VA Summer Sports Clinic. Each day is event specific. There was 10 teams with about 12 people per team and this year was the first time they had an all women's team. I was on team Nautilus, our team won the Trophy for the Clinic. Each day's events varied over the week. The first day for our team was at the Olympic Training Center in Chula Vista for Track n Field, Rowing, and Archery. Day two was Hand Cycling and Rock Climbing. Day three was Kayaking and Canoeing. Day four we went sailing, spent the morning on the America's cup winning sail boat, then sailing in small boats in the afternoon. Day five was Surfing all day. I had a blast doing certain events, surfing and discus were probably my favorite. I guess what I took from the whole week was, regardless of injury there is a way different sports can be done. The staff and volunteers are great, the clinic is very well organized and everyone should consider going if they have the time and interest.

I was invited to Salt Lake City to shoot bow with the US Archery Team. I learned a lot and met some good people. I definitely have a lot of work to do to get to the level I need to be at. It was not a vacation. Just like any Olympic style clinic, it was shoot bow from the early morning till the late evening with a few breaks for meals and training in between. It was well worth the trip and hopefully I am invited back in the future.

I have a couple things in the works:
1. Iowa has a two week period for disabled hunters at the end of September. Out of state hunters pay resident prices to hunt with a state form I can provide. I am still checking on the draw portion on tags, and the location the hunts can be at. If members at other chapters are interested, feel free to contact me.
2. I am working on setting up a trap shoot for 2014 near the Cedar Rapids area of Iowa. As I get more information I will have it in the chapter newsletter.

I created a new email for Sports related information, if you would like to be added to the email list, please email me your basic information and events you may be interested in to: iowapvasports@yahoo.com. If you do not have email, contact Kim at the office and give her your information, I will be happy to send you information by mail or call you with information on upcoming events.

In September I attended two trapshoots and went on a Pheasant Hunt. The first trapshoot was in Sioux Falls, South Dakota with the North Central PVA Chapter. I came in second in the class D singles division. After the trapshoot the North Central Chapter held a Pheasant Hunt at Top Gun in Howard, South Dakota. Hunting is one of my favorite hobbies and I always enjoy the chance to shoot some pheasants.

On the day of the pheasant hunt, National Past President Joe Fox offered me a ride out to Top Gun with he and Andy McDonald. Howard, SD is an hour and a half from Sioux Falls and this gave us a chance to visit. I want to say thank you to Joe for the ride and the great job Andy does as director of shooting sports. As always, when we arrive there is a great breakfast waiting for us to eat. After breakfast we are loaded up one by one in pickups to take us out to the field. We are positioned at the end of corn fields and volunteers walk the corn fields pushing the pheasants toward us. This makes my third time hunting at Top Gun and this was the most pheasants I had seen. It might be hard to put an exact amount of pheasants I shot since some of us were parked next to each other and were shooting at the same bird but I do know I did shoot my share.

My next trapshoot was at the Wisconsin PVA Chapter. Their shoot was in Green Bay, Wisconsin. I did not do as well shooting there as I did in previous shoots but I did have fun just the same. After the trapshoot, I participated in the pistol and rifle shoot the next day. All I can say about those two shoots is that I will need to practice more than I have been to beat those top scores for next year. The Challenged Athletes Foundation and the Iowa Paralyzed Veterans of America sponsored me to these events and I want like say thank you for giving me his opportunity to participate.

Finding Success at a Job Fair

How to prepare
Check out the Job Fairs employer attendees. You can get a list of companies that will be attending. This gives you the opportunity to research possible positions the company has open and a chance to research what that company does.
Make sure that you have enough resumes and references to be able to distribute to your new contacts.
Dress for success. Dress in business attire. This can include dress pants and shirts. Suits and ties can add to your professional look.

Know the layout
You should arrive before the Job Fair starts. Surveying the room helps you locate the employers you are interested to present too.

Share your plan
Be prepared to explain your work experience, education, and career goals in a short concise way. Ask questions concerning current and future openings. First impressions count. Show your enthusiasm for the company as a career opportunity.

Plan your follow-up
Get contact names, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses.
These contacts can keep you out of the large pool of applicants that are using a company’s career sites. Ask about follow up communication timelines. Identify the employer's preference for these contacts.

After the job fair
Send thank you e-mails! This reinforces your contact with the employer and adds to your enthusiasm for the job. This will help you continue your line of contact to find a position.
You should complete all online profiles and applications for the career positions.
Contact the company on the timelines you have established. If turned down for the position, ask about other openings you may be qualified for.

Your Life. Your Ride.™
If it wasn’t for the fact that we’ve got two winters and only one summer in front of us, this would be my favorite time of the year. However, I’ll just do like always and take it the way it comes.

Beyond all that, one day last week I made a scheduled pit stop at the local watering hole. There was a long line of old geezers at the bar. They were doing their daily geezering and drinking ice-cold beer. The talk was of baseball. The guy holding down the stool at the end of the bar said, “I like the World Series but I like it best when there is a Subway Series in New York.” A guy way down the line said, “My wife fixed one of those Subways for me for supper last night and I didn’t like it at all.” That’s when I decided there was nothing to be learned in the saloon, so I vamoosed.

The discussion question at last week’s meeting of my Thursday Afternoon Grey Book Reading Club was: If you want to kick a chicken in the knee you have to stand behind it. True or false?
